WHAT TO READ NEXT

It's summer time and the living is easy. Beaches, lazy days by the pool, but what to read? We have lots of resources to help you pick out your next good book!

First, we have a personalized service with the clunky name of Reader's Advisory. If you're in the library you can always ask the friendly reference staff to help you pick out a new book. If you're on the Internet you can use our "Your Next Good Book" service at http://hackleylibrary.org/pg/BOOKS__MORE/your_next_good_book.html. Fill out the online form and within a week (usually a day or two) you'll get a list of books!

Next, we have a collection of links at What to Read Next: http://hackleylibrary.org/pg/BOOKS__MORE/what_to_read_next.html that can help you find some new titles. There are book reviews, community book sites, book lists, book suggestion sites, and book search sites here. A couple of our favorites are Goodreads and KDL's What's Next database. Goodreads lets you keep track of what you've read and what you want to read, gives you suggestions, and lots of other cool bookish stuff. The What's Next database allows you to search by author or series for books in series. Need to know the order of the Game of Thrones books? Look no further than What's Next! Another great place to learn about new books is BookBrowse-available to HPL card holders at <https://www.bookbrowse.com/libweb/?lcd=588867>

Need an ebook or e-audiobook? Try our Overdrive service, download books for free for 2 weeks and don't worry about late fees. The books return themselves!
<http://lakeland.lib.overdrive.com/>

Want something in print? Stop by the library and pick up BookPage, a free monthly magazine filled with book reviews, author interviews, and more.

You can also sign up for a variety of book related newsletters at <http://library.booksite.com/6441/>

So, don't fret about what to read next, just pop in to HPL or hop online to hackleylibrary.org. We've got you covered!

How does adult summer reading work?

1. Sign up for the program at the Circulation Desk. The first 200 people who sign up will get a gift.
2. Read or listen to a book (or two or three!) from the Library (eBooks from our collection count!).
3. Fill out a form for each book, indicate the prize you want, and put it in the drawing jar.
4. The last day to enter is August 26.
5. August 26 we will draw names for each prize and from all the entries for a grand prize.

Optional: You may write a short review of any book you read. We'll post your review on the library's website (anonymously) so other folks can find out what Muskegon readers liked (and what they didn't).

With the Hackley Library Adult Summer Reading Program there are NO reading logs, NO minimum number of books to read, and NO silly prizes you don't want. Read what you want and as often as you want. The more you read, the better your chances of winning! Last year over 350 people participated in the program. Be part of the fun!

What's Going On at HPL?

The work that was approved by voters in November 2014 bond election is getting underway!

Barrier-free access at the front door is being added. The reconfigured front entrance will allow everybody to come into the Library safely and through the front door.

The front steps will be will be reconstructed with improved lighting and handrails, and no ugly carpeting. The flag pole and the historic light poles will be reinstalled.

A reading garden between the Library and the museum will connect the new ramps to street parking and to parking behind the library. The garden will feature benches made of re-used Library stones.

A new energy efficient heating and air conditioning system is being installed to heat and cool the Library much more evenly. This huge and complicated job requires expertise, time and some inconvenience, but... 2016 will be the last summer using all those noisy fans.

This summer the Library looks like one hot mess, but it will be over this fall. Next time you're here, look at the drawings and see how nice it's going to be.
