OCT. 9 • MON. 6:00 PM

Squirrel Hillbillies

From deep within the urban forest of Pittsburgh's East End, the Squirrel Hillbillies often emerge to share their eclectic mix of folk, country and blues. Through a collaborative, nonlinear songwriting process, duo partners Jenny Wolsk Bain and Gary Crouth draw from personal experiences, third-hand stories, and vivid imaginations to craft songs that are unpredictable and quirky yet widely accessible. Their CDs have gotten radio play on stations across the US and around the world.

Humans vs Zombies!

MON. 8:00 PM

Back by popular demand! Humans vs. Zombies is a game of tag. Human players must remain vigilant and defend themselves with socks and dart blasters to avoid being tagged by a growing Zombie horde.

We will meet in the lower level meeting rooms beginning at 7:30 pm to go over the rules and pick the Original Zombie. The Library will be locked up at 8:00 pm, and the game will start shortly afterwards. Bring a bandana and either a foam dart blaster or sock (the dart blaster must look like a toy-no realistic looking weapons will be allowed). The game will run about 90 minutes. Participants must be at least 16 years old. Attendance limited to the first 50 people. Check our HVZ website <http://hvzsource.com/hackleypl/> for more information and to pre-register (does not necessarily save a spot in the game.)
