GO NORSEMEN!

A Message From Our Superintendent!

Hello Norse Nation!

As I write this on 12-3-2020, I find myself thinking about what things will look like in early January when this edition of the Norsemen Pride is delivered to our incredible school community... Most importantly, I hope everyone had a wonderful holiday break! I hope all made time to safely be with loved ones. While I am sure it was different than in years past, we all still needed to embrace the opportunity to enjoy, relax, regroup, and find some peace in our world.

As we move closer to our Second Semester, here is my wish for our district as we approach Second Semester:

- that we will continue to make decisions based on our Norse School Community's Physical Safety, Mental Wellbeing, and Student Academic Advancement
- that our parents understand just how much we appreciate all of their efforts in supporting their child(ren) and us - we know this has been an extremely difficult balancing act for families
- that we are able to expand our programming to our students
- that we are able to work toward more normalcy in our school setting
- that our students continue to engage with their incredible teachers no matter the learning environment used
- that our students can attend school with their peers
- that our community and world as a whole embraces grace
- that 2021 is way better than 2020
- that we continue to work together as NORSE NATION for the betterment of our students, staff, families, and full school community

This has been a trying year for all of us... I ask all of us to stay positive, continue to look out for each other, and work together for the advancement of our students. We are going to make the remainder of this school year AMAZING! Thank you Norse Family!

Take care!

Dr. Babcock, Superintendent

1st Grade Bat Cave!

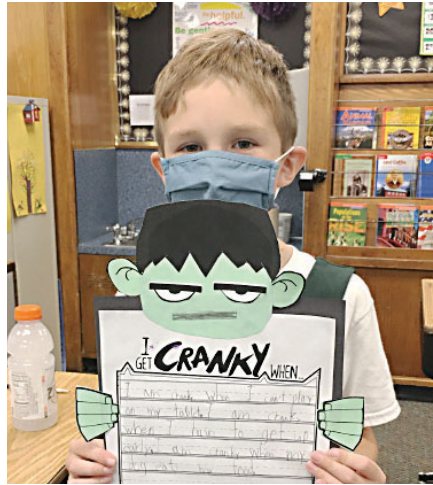

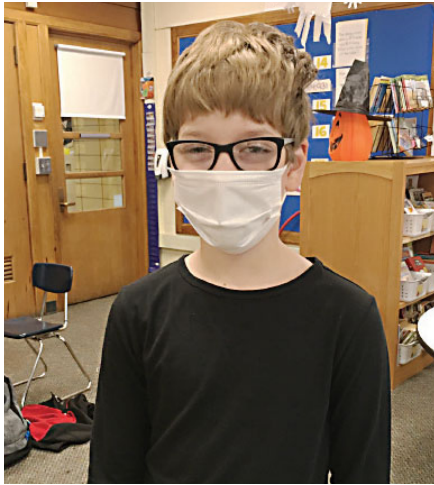

By Mrs. VanderWall

After a week of learning about bats we celebrated by having a bat day! We turned the classroom into a cave and had a full day of bat activities.

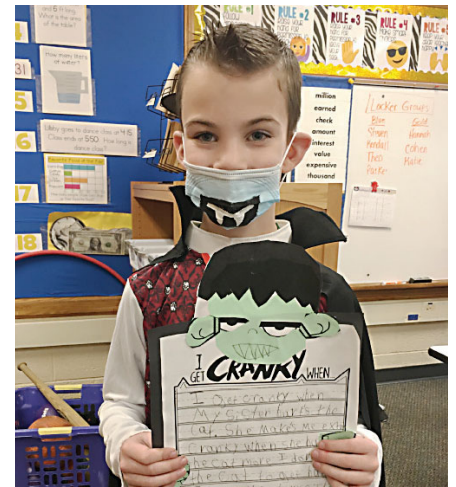

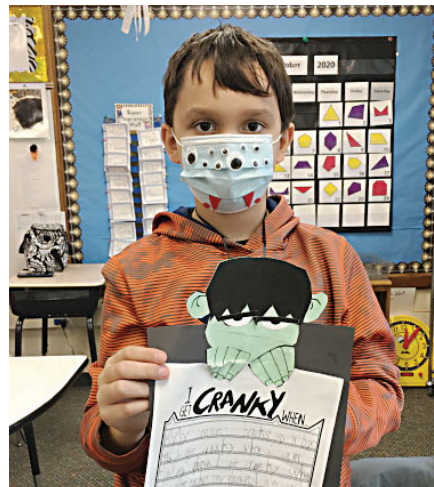

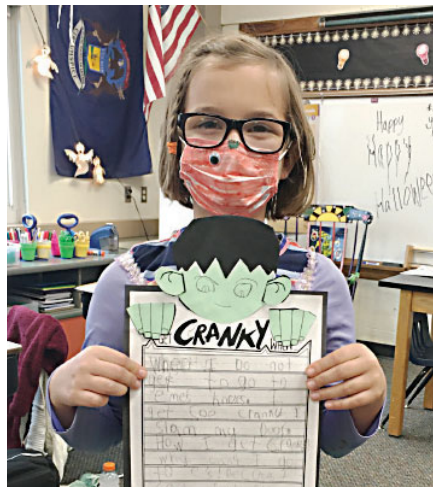

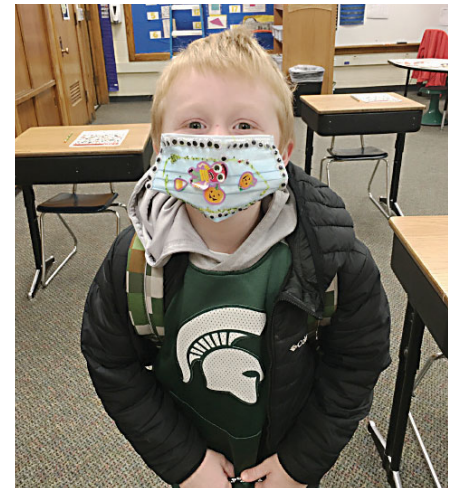

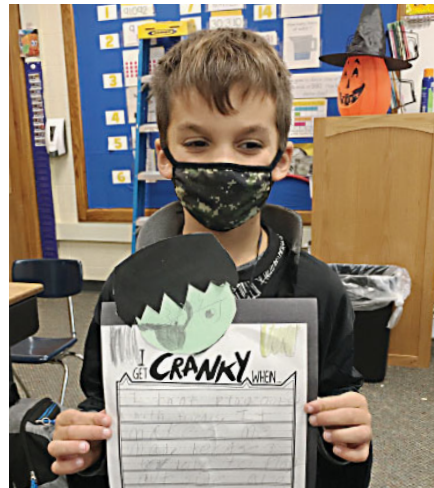

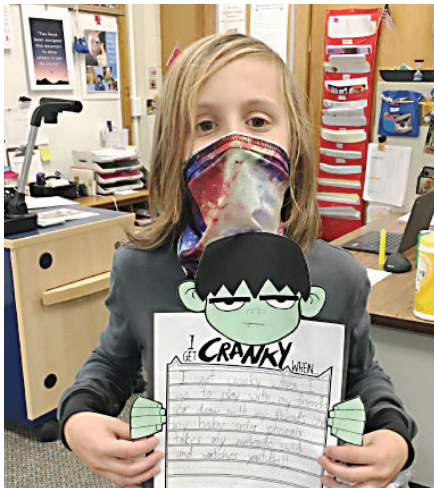

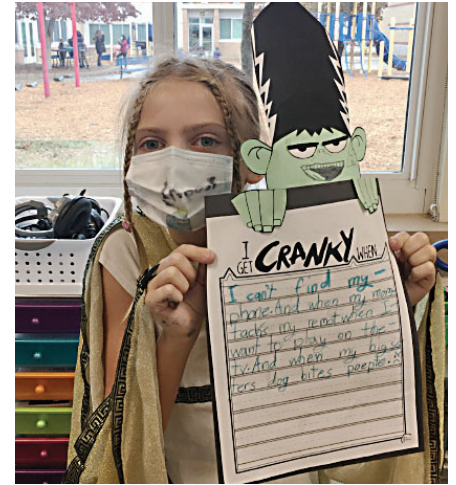

HALLOWEEN

with Ms. Cutler's Third Grade!

Ms. Cutler's Third Grade students decorated their paper face masks for Halloween! Some of them were very creative and coordinated the mask with their costume. Other students opted for a more cozy pajama day. We also did some "Crankenstein" writing on what makes us cranky!

The Norse Education Foundation supports our NM Community!

Ms. Sarah Knuth, a Language Arts teacher in the Middle/High School, was one of the Fall 2019 grant recipients for "Bard to Go: Tossing on the Ocean."

Thank you to the Norse Education Foundation for awarding $250 to pay for "Bard to Go: Tossing on the Ocean," a production of Pigeon Creek Shakespeare Company with Grand Valley State University Theater students during Grand Valley's Shakespeare Festival. The performance on North Muskegon High School's stage for high school students on Friday, November 1, 2019 gave 9th-12th grade students a wonderful experiential learning opportunity as they saw college students perform the unique Shakespearean drama. It was described by Producer Katherine Mayberry as follows:

This production is designed to tour to schools and present students with a 50-minute long performance of scenes from Shakespeare. This year's production uses scenes from The Tempest, Twelfth Night, Pericles, The Winter's Tale, and The Merchant of Venice to tell a new story in which Ariel, the magical spirit from The Tempest, must put things right when characters from many plays are separated in a storm and shipwreck. The script weaves together a theme of storms, ships, and ocean travel that appears in many of Shakespeare's plays.

Experiential learning is memorable and impactful, especially when performers remain on stage after a performance to introduce themselves and answer students' questions about their involvement with Shakespearean drama. This experience showed students that Shakespeare's plays are loved by young people, they are entertaining to watch, and they have universal themes that are applicable in our world today. Thank you to the Norse Education Foundation for your support!

Norse Education FOUNDATION

The future is hard to predict. But one thing we do know is that we will need resources to fuel our mission in the years to come. That's why we've created the Norse Education Foundation endowment fund at the Community Foundation for Muskegon County. The Norse Education Foundation (NEF) was established to enrich the educational experiences of NMPS students by funding excellence in teaching and learning beyond what is provided through operating funds.

Our fund is professionally invested for the long-term, and each year, 4% of the average fund balance is available to us to support our ongoing needs. Since Fall of 2012 over $45,000 in grants has been awarded. The Foundation handles all administrative details and investment responsibilities for our fund, freeing us to concentrate on our mission.

You can make an important investment in the Norse Education Foundation that costs you nothing during your lifetime!

By making the Norse Education Foundation's endowment fund at the Community Foundation for Muskegon County the beneficiary of a life insurance policy or retirement plan, you can be assured that your gift will receive expert stewardship and help us meet our mission well into the future.

Using a beneficiary designation form available through your plan administrator, you can specify the entire account or simply a percentage of it. By directing the benefit to "the Norse Education Foundation's endowment fund at the Community Foundation for Muskegon County, a 501(c)(3) tax exempt organization," you are making a lasting gift that does not require that you make changes to your will and trust documents. It's easy and free!

We hope you will consider playing a part in our future. To learn more, please contact Kristie Hall at 231-719-4107 or khall@nmps.net or Heidi Sytsema at the Community Foundation at 231-332-4107 or heidi@muskegonfoundation.org.

NORSE UNITED

2020 VERSION

Senior Mentors- Dre Brown, Kyara Chaney, Will Gallo, Greta Goszkowicz, Alicia Hall, Hope Johnson, Georgette Kersman, Megan Kraley, Brennen McManus, Sarah Muzzy, Brennan Pannucci.

Junior Mentors- Jasmine Duncan, Gabby Gaston

Mentoring during a pandemic while hybrid and/or virtual certainly has its challenges! However the mission of our HS mentor club remains: pay it forward to the next generation of Norsemen. Our high school leaders mentor students in grades K-8. We ended the 2019-2020 year with Project Pen Pal. This initiative was to strengthen our written skills while still connecting with our littles in a safe and meaningful way.

As we embarked on our 8th year mentoring, this year our club decided to remain intact from 2019-2020 and mentor our “littles” using Google Meet or Project Connect. Although certainly NOT ideal, this has given a new spin to our communication skills as mentors, talking less and listening more. The power of being present with someone and having that be the primary mission has surfaced more than ever before.

In January, when this article will be published, we will celebrate National Mentoring Month. Normally during this time we challenge others outside of our club to seek out where they can mentor or share resources on how to find a mentor. Here is a helpful link to the national site as well as embedded links to local organizations. <https://www.mentoring.org/campaigns/national-mentoring-month/>

Our club believes everyone needs someone, especially during a time when isolation is our new norm.

they’ll be like you.”

Mindfulness for North Muskegon Kids and Community

“Emotions drive learning, decision-making, creativity, relationships and health. Mastering the skills of emotional intelligence paves the way for greater well-being, better relationships and overall effectiveness ...for students from kindergarten through high school and for the adults who surround them, including educators and parents.”

~ Marc Brackett, director of the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence (excerpts from Mindful Kindful YOUiversity)

*By Lisa Cobb, LMSW School Social Worker/
Behavior Specialist/Certified Mindfulness Instructor*

Wouldn't it be nice if there was a way to teach kids how to hone their focus to pay better attention? Or how about to be aware of their own feelings and to calm themselves down? Wouldn't it be great to teach them to find the balance in their lives (and ours)?

Our kids are more stressed than ever and they need all of our help. We have to teach them tools to cope with their challenging lives. Prolonged and/or intense stress takes a toll on a child (and adult) causing anxiety, depression, acting out, physical illness, and learning issues. These are great reasons to mitigate stress early by using a variety of forms of mindfulness.

Mindfulness is a bit of a buzzword in society today. Most people have heard of it, but many are confused about what mindfulness really means. It's common to think it's only about meditation, but in reality it simply means focusing your awareness on the present moment; calmly noticing your emotions and physical sensations without judgment as you are doing whatever you happen to be doing.

Emotional intelligence is the ability to understand and manage your emotions, and to understand and respond effectively to the emotions of others. These are internal and interpersonal skills that can be acquired and improved with practice.

In traditional educational settings, or for many of us growing up, emotional intelligence life skills are/were not formally taught, yet these are the essential skills to handle life's pressures, stresses, and challenges which arise throughout the day and across the years, regardless of age or background. Fortunately, we don't need to be a neuroscientist to teach students about the brain or about the impact of stress, anxiety, and fear on brain function. We can teach kids emotional intelligence/mindfulness practices at school and at home.

It is important for parents and teachers to consciously infuse mindfulness into each day and/or evening. When we do, we will see changes in ourselves and in our children. Hence, building resilience all around.

Here are some mindfulness activities for home:

- Sit together and slowly have a snack
- Talk about the snack and its characteristics; your favorite flavor, its texture, its temperature. Really noticing what you're eating helps you be in the moment instead of worrying about anything else. To be playful, make funny faces to show your opinion of a food, or come up with creative ideas for weird meals.
- Do a puzzle together.
- Go for a walk and talk about the trees, birds, bugs, or grass.

- Read a story or poem together. Talk about the book and what you both thought about the story and characters.
- Ask your child about the weather inside their hearts—sunny, cloudy, bright, rainy, or stormy. Be curious about their day and its highs and lows.
- Write your Imagine stories together (go to www.theimagineproject.org).
- Play a game, anything from peek-a-boo and hide-and-go-seek to card games or board games.
- Cook together.
- Chase bubbles.
- Look at the clouds and find formations in them.
- Pick a country on the world map and research it.
- Draw, color, and create together.
- Tell a story at bedtime, real or fictional.
- Using a chime or singing bowl at bedtime, listen to the sound together until the sound is completely gone, ring it again if you'd like.

North Muskegon School uses the researched based resource of CASEL (the Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning) to teach children and adults how to acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to:

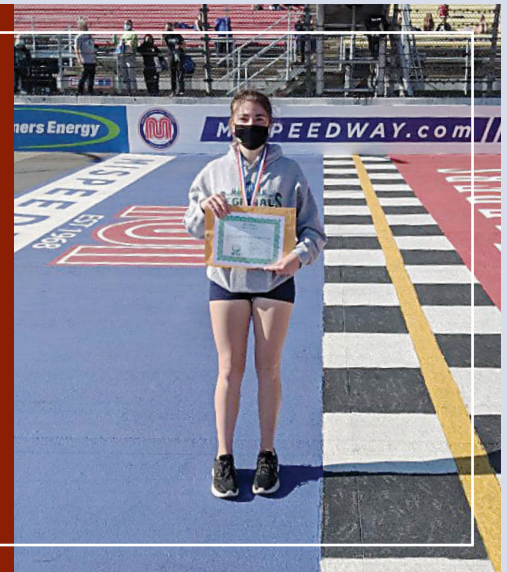

- understand and manage emotions,
- set and achieve positive goals,
- feel and show empathy for others,
- establish and maintain positive relationships,
- and make responsible decisions.
